

Status flow

Status flows represent legal pathways in the workflow.

In regard to the user interface, only valid options will be displayed i the records status selector. This check is also carried out by the data layer, so the same restrictions apply regardless of data was entered by regular users, file imports og the webservice interface.

If a given status can be used from most other states, we recommend using the Status:IsMeta attribute: Meta states can be entered from all other states.
