Configuration

The screenshot shows a dialog box titled "Edit field configuration". It has a table-like structure with three rows. The first row is labeled "Fields to test" and contains a large text area with a dropdown menu that says "Select a field to add to list". The second row is labeled "Success response" and contains a text input field. The third row is labeled "Failure response" and contains a text input field. A "CANCEL" button is located in the bottom right corner of the dialog box.
