

Import emails

The service will collect incoming emails and distribute them to each recognizable record.

The solution must contain a Mailbox field, which handles display of the incoming emails. Each record has a distinct email address, and in the field it is possible to specify which users are allowed to send emails to that type of record.

Before use a catch-all POP3 email address needs to be specified.

The account details should be entered in the policies

- mailDomain
- mailServer
- mailUsername
- mailPassword

Suggested frequency is 10-15 minutes.
